Citristrip[®] Paint Stripper

What is it?

Patented Citristrip is the new stripper alternative to methylene chloride and other dangerous paint strippers. Citristrip is based on citrus extracts from oranges and is safer to use than other strippers. Citristrip is made with bio-degradable ingredients.

What does It do?

Citristrip will lift most paint in less than 30 minutes but is formulated to stay active for up to 24 hours for more stubborn or multiple coatings. Citristrip does not harden or evaporate in a short time and will even stick to vertical surfaces. Its orange colour will make it stand out from the surface so it's easy to see which areas have been coated.

Where to use it

Citristrip is safe to use on wood, metal and masonry. It should not be used on plastics, rubber, synthetic fibres and asphalt. Like with all paint strippers you should ALWAYS test a small area of the surface to be treated before proceeding with the whole job.

How to use it

1. Shake well and pour a quantity into a metal container
2. Brush a generous coat onto the surface
3. Allow to penetrate the coating until it starts to lift. This might take anywhere from 30 minutes to several hours depending on the paint and the number of coats to be removed. On rare occasions a second application may be required.

Tip: Use a toothbrush with Citristrip paint remover wash to get into tight corners and other crevices to remove any paint residue.

Coverage:

2 to 3 m² per litre depending on the thickness of the paint layers.

Tip: Save the removed paint, add a little water and and stripper and keep it in a glass or metal jar. It will make a good brush cleaner and can even be used again on another stripping job.
